

Tutorial: Rock, Paper, Scissors

This game lets players choose rock, paper, or scissors against a computer. The logic uses basic JavaScript: an array of choices, random selection for the computer, and conditional checks to determine the winner (rock beats scissors, paper beats rock, scissors beats paper). Buttons trigger the `play()` function, updating the result div. The CSS styles buttons and centers content. To extend, add score tracking or animations.